

Basic Supply List

As we'll be spending the whole year together (wow!), the supply list is likely to change/ adapt/ grow and transform here and there, as will you! :0)

So please assume the list below is tentative and that you may need a few more bits here and there as the year progresses. That said, it's not always necessary to use the exact same materials as the teachers do. Certain materials can easily be replaced by similar or other materials. So if you're on a budget, don't go mad buying lots of new materials.

Another suggestion is to watch the weekly videos, see what materials are used and only go out buying them if you absolutely LOVE what you've seen the teacher do. Don't go out buying materials if you don't think you'll use them much more than just for the lesson. Art supplies are expensive, so buy wisely. :)

These are the basic materials that I use the most and are great as a starter kit:

Paper:

Daler Rowney – Hot Pressed – The Langton – 140b size: 12 x 9 inches (Note: people have told me the hotpressed is hard to find, cold pressed is totally fine!). Other brands that are good too: Fabriano/ Strathmore

Paints:

Watersoluble crayons – Caran D'ache Neocolor II
 Acrylic Paints – Daler Rowney/ Golden/ Winsor Newton
 Standard Watercolour Paints
 Golden Fluid Acrylics (they are very expensive, if you want to try these out, buy 2 or 3 of your favourite colours to start with)

Pencils:

Watercolour pencils: Derwent Inktense/
 Caran D'ache Supracolor
 Graphite pencils: 2b & heavier
 Graphite crayons are fun but optional

Mediums:

Gel Medium: Golden or Liquitex I have both heavy and soft. If you just want to buy 1 go for soft matte.
 Cheaper gel medium to use as an adhesive: Daler- Rowney Impasto Gel Matt/ Golden Matte Medium/ Liquitex Matte Medium

Collage:

Variety of patterned scrapbooking papers, magazine pages, book pages and photos.

Tools:

Brayer/ Palette Knives/ Scissors/ Rulers
 Heatgun or Hair Dryer

Markers:

Aquamarkers Letraset

Inks/ Sprays:

Dylusions Ink Sprays
 Daler-Rowney Liquid Acrylics

Gesso:

White Gesso
 Transparent Gesso
